

Training

Training, Seminars, Workshops

Training is an investment for the future and an essential tool for success. It not only increases productivity but also motivates and inspires people. Training programmes, seminars and workshops are an opportunity to achieve all that and much more. GIC Re, the Indian reinsurer, now wishes to share its knowledge and experience of four decades with its international customers to provide them a firm foundation of reinsurance.

How You Will Benefit

GIC Re has been organizing training programmes as a value addition for its customers. These are part of the CRM initiatives by GIC Re to strengthen relationships and understand the customers' requirements and provide solutions. In case of direct underwriters it is not very often that the executives get exposure to the nuances of reinsurance. In addition, the global reinsurance markets are changing rapidly and only continuing professional development can help individuals and organizations remain in the forefront.

Who should Attend?

Junior & Middle Level Executives from Direct Insurance & reinsurance companies looking after:

- Underwriting – Direct / Reinsurance/
